II. BACKGROUND

Tourism's role in economic resurgence and sustained recovery could not be overemphasized. No less than our President Ferdinand "Bongbong" Marcos, Jr. highlighted tourism's resilient and reliable contribution to sustained growth in his recent State of the Nation Address. According to him, tourism has historically provided livelihood and employment opportunities to Filipinos.

Given the importance placed by our President to tourism, we see the high value and critical importance of striving for success in promoting tourism to establish it as a hallmark of the current administration, and most importantly, a source of national pride for our people.

Philippine economic managers have identified tourism as the second top driver of the Philippine economy in the first half of the current year. This, despite global tourism recovery to pre-pandemic levels remains unrealized according to the United Nations World Tourism Organization.

Our President's vision for the Philippine tourism industry is clear: to establish a sector anchored in the richness of Filipino culture, heritage, and identity, making it competitive on the global stage. Together, through meaningful collaboration and innovation, we can transform the Philippines into a tourism powerhouse in Asia, ensuring lasting economic and social benefits for all that will give more reasons to Love The Philippines!

III. PROJECT DESCRIPTION

To maximize the DOT's media exposure and ensure that its public image remains positive, the OPAA has been organizing a Yearend Briefing. Held annually for the past three years prior to the pandemic. This gathering of invited members of the national media and stakeholders is part of its extensive information and awareness drive program to position the Department's works in various media platforms.

The DOT Annual Yearend Media Briefing and Appreciation Reception aims to give, first and foremost, the Tourism Secretary, as well as other key Officials of the Department the opportunity to engage our media partners and influencers for their sustained efforts in the promotion of Philippine tourism, while addressing some of the pressing issues related to policy directions, targets and accomplishments of the Department for the concluding year.

Sought to attend are the DOT-accredited members of the national media and influencers/ tourism-beat reporters, lifestyle, travel editors, columnists, and news-beat journalists from broadsheets, travel magazines, radio, TV and social media. Top officials of the Department and heads of the communications department of allied agencies and stakeholders are also enjoined to attend the event for networking purposes.

IV. PROJECT OBJECTIVES

- Enlist commitment and support from the members of the national media in all Department initiatives, programs and directions;
- Contribute to advancing the vision of President Bongbong Marcos for a revitalized tourism sector that heralds the Filipino brand and contributes greatly to the Philippines' economic resurgence.
- Engage members of media to continuously generate favorable publicity for the Department.
- Forge an eloquent relationship between and among media platforms.
- Engage public and private partnership in tourism development and propagation of the culture of tourism.

V. GENDER AND DEVELOPMENT OBJECTIVES

- Promote equal opportunities for men and women to receive recognition as indispensable players in the tourism industry.
